

Sport Fishing at Amazon – Rio Negro

If you enjoy fishing, whether you are a novice or seasoned professional, and are ready for a once-in-a-lifetime adventure fishing for the ferocious peacock bass at Rio Negro (Negro River) - We will navigate this enormous River aboard our Hotel boat visiting numerous lakes, lagoons, and creeks, home for large numbers of this brave tropical game fish, admired as number one target for the visiting sport fisherman. From May thru October, considered high water season, when large parts of the forest get flooded, the fish will be hunting and hiding in surrounding vegetation making it hard to catch him. As from November the water will go down, forcing the fish out of the vegetation, offering proper conditions for the angler. So the best time to do the program is from November to April.

Untouched nature also offers breathtaking scenery only found in tropical rain forest environment, entertaining the angler while making a dreams trip come true.

Our adventure starts in Manaus/Amazonas, where daily flights to the fishing location are available.
